

Shrine of the Christ Child Message

Early in Lent, 2015

My precious one. Sunday at Mass you saw My holy cross come out and light up. I showed you your journal and told you to come to Me and write these words I place into your heart. I explained to you that this was more important now in these days than ever before. My child everything you have been told through My Holy Spirit is now going on around you. The chastisements you have heard about for many years now have started. The purification must come to a very sinful world. The evil one is in full rage now wanting to destroy everything that is good and holy. It is now time for all you have been foretold about to be fulfilled. The time has come and you will see the destruction of your world; earthquakes will increase, tidal waves will consume parts of your earth, fire will fall from Heaven, and as comets come closer to your earth much devastation, disease, and starvation will also come. You have your greatest gift of your holy rosary. Prepare spiritually, prepare now My daughter. Time is so short now.

I have taken you all over the world My child to open your eyes to many things. Venezuela was your first major trip. You could see your Holy Mother standing in a full moon as She looked down upon you. She also came as a beautiful blue, large butterfly. You were blessed to see your first Eucharistic miracle because since you were a very small child you believed in My true presence in My Holy Eucharist. You could not wait to receive Me on your First Holy Communion day for you knew My body and blood would fill you with Myself and you would become part of Me each time I came to you. What love you have always had for Me, and now My child you will see Me taken from your churches. When I'm gone it will break your heart. Your holy churches will only be empty buildings. My little one your beautiful chapel and My gifts to you were sent to you for this time that will last about 3 ½ years. I wanted you always to have Me with you and to have a holy place for Adoration, a little church where you would feel safe and protected during this time on earth as never before. Pray My child, pray, the antichrist is here, the ones that call themselves ISIS are satan's army. I am your God and Father and I will protect and guide you through this chastisement that has now begun. I love and bless you, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

A few days later, as I was talking to the Lord and told him about all the sickness and suffering going on in the world (especially in my own family), and how depressing it is becoming, He told me:

My dear daughter, do not worry about anything. All I wish for you now is to think about the joy that awaits you in My new Heaven and earth. Little one, think about the most beautiful and peaceful place you have ever been on earth. Daughter, nothing begins to compare to what I have waiting for you, such beauty and love awaits you, joy My child, complete joy and happiness. To be with God, your Father, your Savior, Jesus, and your Holy Mother, how We love you. How happy We are to know Our children that love Us will have paradise for evermore. Love, My child, trust in Me your Father, your King, for I love you so very, very much. Give Me all your sorrows and worries, just focus on My love and mercy for you are Mine and I am coming for you and all My children who say 'yes Father, I love You and want to be Your child forevermore.' Come home to Me for I am your refuge, your strength, your salvation, and most of all your Father who created you. I bless you Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Remember, trust completely no matter what is taking place around you.
